WHEREAS, Koding-4-Kids, Inc. (d/b/a Docere) (the "Company") is engaged in the development of educational technology software and related services; and

WHEREAS, Krish Suryavanshi (the "Receiving Party") will be serving as a Software Engineering Intern and will have access to confidential and proprietary information of the Company; and

WHEREAS, the Company desires to protect its confidential information and trade secrets;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises and covenants contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

Terms and Conditions

1. Definition of Confidential Information

"Confidential Information" means any and all non-public information disclosed by the Company to the Receiving Party, whether orally, in writing, electronically, or by any other means, including but not limited to: (a) source code, algorithms, software architecture, and technical designs; (b) product roadmaps, feature plans, and development strategies; (c) business plans, financial data, pricing models, and revenue projections; (d) user data, analytics, and usage patterns; (e) intellectual property, inventions, and trade secrets; (f) information about partnerships, investors, and business relationships; (g) any information marked or designated as confidential; and (h) any information that a reasonable person would understand to be confidential given the nature of the information and circumstances of disclosure.

2. Obligations of the Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to: (a) hold all Confidential Information in strict confidence; (b) not disclose any Confidential Information to any third party without the prior written consent of the Company; (c) use Confidential Information solely for the purpose of performing duties as a Software Engineering Intern for the Company; (d) take all reasonable precautions to prevent unauthorized disclosure or use of Confidential Information, using at least the same degree of care used to protect their own confidential information, but in no event less than reasonable care; and (e) promptly notify the Company of any unauthorized disclosure or use of Confidential Information.

3. Exclusions

Confidential Information does not include information that: (a) is or becomes publicly available through no fault of the Receiving Party; (b) was rightfully known to the Receiving Party prior to disclosure by the Company, as evidenced by written records; (c) is independently developed by the Receiving Party without use of or reference to the Confidential Information; or (d) is rightfully received from a third party without restriction on disclosure.

4. Intellectual Property

All Confidential Information remains the exclusive property of the Company. Nothing in this Agreement grants the Receiving Party any rights, title, or interest in the Confidential Information or any intellectual property of the Company. Any work product, inventions, or developments created by the Receiving Party during their engagement that relate to the Company's business or that result from the use of Confidential Information shall be the sole property of the Company.

5. Return of Materials

Upon termination of the Receiving Party's engagement with the Company, or upon the Company's written request, the Receiving Party shall promptly: (a) return all documents, files, and other materials containing Confidential Information; (b) delete all electronic copies of Confidential Information from personal devices and accounts; and (c) certify in writing that all Confidential Information has been returned or destroyed.

6. Term and Duration

This Agreement is effective as of the Effective Date and the confidentiality obligations shall survive for a period of two (2) years following the termination of the Receiving Party's engagement with the Company, or for as long as the Confidential Information remains a trade secret, whichever is longer.

7. Remedies

The Receiving Party acknowledges that any breach of this Agreement may cause irreparable harm to the Company for which monetary damages alone would be inadequate. Accordingly, the Company shall be entitled to seek equitable relief, including injunction and specific performance, in addition to all other remedies available at law or in equity.

8. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Maryland, without regard to its conflict of laws principles.

9. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous understandings, agreements, representations, and warranties, both written and oral, with respect to such subject matter.
